LOW INFLOW OF INVESTMENTS FROM PAKISTAN TO BiH

Representatives of the National Defense University of Pakistan visited the Foreign Investment Promotion Agency in BiH (FIPA) to have information about the economic cooperation between BiH and Pakistan. Director Milinić welcomed the Pakistani delegation, and informed it on the Agency's responsibilities, cooperating with other BiH institutions and embassies in the field of attracting investments. He recalled the previous meetings with Pakistani businessmen which, unfortunately, did not result in investment.

The registered inflow of investments from Pakistan to BiH is less than BAM 100,000 and therefore there is space for its improvement. Advantages and reasons for investing in BiH were presented, emphasizing the existence of signed preferential trade agreements / EU, CEFTA, EFTA, including the status of foreign investors in BiH, as well as investment sectors.

Available investment projects of the military industry as well as projects of other sectors of BiH were presented to the delegation, including information on the realization of possible strategic projects and possibilities for cooperation with BiH companies in the military industry.

BIH WINE WERE PRESENTED AT FAMOUS FAIR IN TOKYO, JAPAN

2 kinds of BiH wine from VINO MANASTIR TVRDOŠ (Trebinje) Vranac 2015, and from Vinogradi Nuić (Ljubuski) Pošip 2015 were presented and sold at 95th World Liquor and Cheese Festival, very famous wine fair in Tokyo, Japan, which was held from 10 to 16 April.

More than 1000 kinds of wine from 28 countries were exhibited and sold at high-grade department store named DAIMARU. During the 7 days event, about 25000 bottles of wine were sold, and it is one of the biggest wine fair in Japan.

The FIPA Country Representative in Japan, Shigehiko Nishihama supported this fair to introduce the BiH wine to Japanese consumers directly. From January 2014, for the first time, BiH started exporting wine to Japan. For having these results, Mr Nishihama made important efforts.

Japanese import company named M & P Corporation (Tokyo) decided to import the BiH wine from 2 wineries, Vinogradi Nuić and VINO MANASTIR TVRDOŠ. Consumers of Japanese market are satisfied with high quality of the BiH wine and enjoyed tasting special original grape, Vranac and Pošip. At this fair, the BiH wine from local original grape, Blatina and Žilavka were not sold, but M & P Corporation deals with both of them, Blatina and Žilavka are also popular and well received in Japan, too.

Besides the wine presentation, he also presented culture and tourism of BiH to Japanese visitors at this fair, which was important contribution to Bosnia and Herzegovina at the Japanese market.

INTENSIFY THE WAY TO ANIMATE POTENTIAL INVESTORS

Within the preparations for the diplomatic mission, the newly-appointed BiH diploma Slaviša Čeranić, Ambassador of BiH to Romania, and Siniša Berjan, Ambassador of BiH to Japan, visited FIPA in order to have information on the Agency's competencies, cooperation with foreign investors and current activities at field of economic cooperation with the mentioned countries. FIPA Director Gordan Milinić informed Ambassadors about the work of the Agency in the field of foreign investment, work with and support to foreign investors in BiH, currently available investment projects, and sectors that could be of interest to investors from Romania and Japan. He also referred to the growth trend of foreign investments in 2017 and 2018 when we recorded BAM 800 million, highlighting expectations of continued growth during 2019. More significant effects of the economic diplomacy are expected in the field of exports from BiH and the finding of investors for BiH. It is therefore very important, after taking office, to establish contacts with economic and regional chambers of commerce, as well as associations of entrepreneurs and sectorial associations in order to present the potentials of BiH, as well as intensify the way to animate potential investors. According to the official data of the Central Bank of BH, the current investments of Romania in BiH amount to BAM 3.4 million, while the most important Romanian companies are Steel Mehanika, Corrado Penna and Astra Invest. No significant foreign investment in BiH was registered in Japan. The effects of several visits of Japanese economic delegations in BiH in the past two or three years are expected in the near future. It is important to note that Japan is one of the largest donors in BiH.

Importance of organizing business meetings between BiH and foreign businessmen has been highlighted in order to strengthen economic ties, increase investments, and follow economic events in order to involve BiH business and businessmen in new business flows. It was agreed that Ambassadors organize investment forums for BiH in the near future.

According to the published preliminary data of the Central Bank of BH, foreign direct investments in 2018 reached the amount of BAM 800 million, which represents an increase of 2.8% compared to 2017 when BAM 777 million was recorded. The growth trend of foreign investments from 2017 continued in 2018. FIPA Director Gordan Milinić said that he was satisfied with this amount, because of the fact that last year was extremely difficult to attract foreign investors due to pre-election rhetoric that discouraged foreign investors, and frequent foreign investors' question whether their capital will be safe in Bosnia and Herzegovina. If it is to judge by the number of meetings and contacts that FIPA has held and established since the beginning of 2019, a trend of growth may also be expected in 2019. There are announcements of new investments this year, as well as a significant number of projects that started in 2018, and whose implementation continues in 2019. The start of the investment cycle will bring new jobs, employment of our citizens, more taxes to the state, new technologies, and strengthening the standards of living of our citizens. It is very important to point out that there are many obstacles on the way to a much larger inflow of foreign investments in BiH and a stronger investment increase that needs to be eliminated if the objective is to achieve a greater degree of employment in the country, strengthening the economy and development of the country. It is important to continue with the reform processes and to show willingness and will to improve the country's opportunities. Growth in investment and employment is a sufficient motivation to continue improving the country's business environment in a way that stimulates business people, improves the country's competitiveness and image. FIPA, within its Post-Investment Support Program, is preparing a proposal of measures that all BiH authorities should undertake to improve the business environment and facilitate business for foreign investors. Proposals have already been addressed to the competent authorities, after which they will be submitted to the final consideration of the Council of Ministers of BiH. In order to attract new investors and improve the image of the country, FIPA continues the implementation of the media campaign "Invest in BiH" in the world, which includes diplomatic and consular representations of BiH and foreign embassies in Sarajevo, and in which significant funds for advertising in the world's media should be invested.
